

Two fellow bastards spend their lives fearing abandonment...with reckless abandon. But can two women this badly wired for chaos actually change? Co-creators and comics Nikki Bon and Claire Cavalheiro careen through time – from their own accidental conceptions, through the Juicy Couture wreckage of Y2K, to the harrowing torture that is parenthood. With nothing but each other and a mostly empty stage. 2% of Condoms is a sardonic two-hander about best friends born from broken condoms, raised without fathers, and spectacularly bad at dealing with their baggage. Until they have to. (Maybe.)
