

Press

“This show is an engaging blend of parody and spoof that uses humour to unpack some fascinating real-world issues.” - Edinburgh Reviews

“The production doesn’t shy away from weighty topics, and it manages to do so in a way that is “proper Fringe theatre.” - Edinburgh Reviews

“The production is a well-researched parody that tackles big business, nepotism, and social media with a sharp wit.” - Edinburgh Reviews

Audience Reviews

“This...I don’t know what I was expecting but not this! It was so funny, so weird, it brought a chaotic energy that I loved so much!” - Alex, Edinburgh Fringe

“Cheesy Canadian satire. Made me laugh out loud and like nothing else I’ve seen at the Fringe!” - Anonymous, Edinburgh Fringe

“I loved this show. An absurdly hilarious trek across Canada with mystery and cheese puns at every turn.” - Cristina, Edinburgh Fringe

“You’d be crackers to miss this cheesy show - it’s really Gouda.” - Nick Rutherford, Edinburgh Fringe

“This was a clever, hilarious, and intriguing mystery from start to finish. Laughed out loud! Don’t miss.” - Kristen Smith, Edinburgh Fringe

“The cheesiest show at the Fringe.” - Edward Sinnott, Edinburgh Fringe

“I just loved cheese pervert! It had so much to say about today’s culture and it is based on things that actually happened!” Ron Low, Edinburgh Fringe

“What a grate performance! Highly recommend! Checky cheese it out!” Lish, Edinburgh Fringe

“This was so much fun! I learned so much about cheese, would definitely recommend this show!” - Anonymous, Edinburgh Fringe