

Enjoy the Hostilities Synopsis:

In 2007 Robin Black had a drug-induced seizure. The seizure was brought on by over a decade of hard living playing in a rock and roll band. The near-death experience gave Black a revelation. The excessive lifestyle was getting too dangerous. It was at that point the singer made the decision to fight a man in a cage.

In Enjoy the Hostilities Black (UFC, TSN, MUCHMUSIC) walks us through his transition from glam rock singer, to mixed martial artist, to television personality. Co-written by Graham Isador (VICE, Soulpepper Playwright's unit) the show uses storytelling, comedy, and punch drunk philosophy to offer audiences advice on how to make the most out of almost making it.
