This Duck Productions presents Such Ado! at Cake Cabaret
Emily Elizabeth brings a Shakespeare classic into the 21st century and makes it oh-so-gay!

What if Much Ado About Nothing was set in the present day and everyone was gay? In this totally-modern adaptation (no Shakespeare words, we promise!), Playwright Emily Elizabeth deftly weaves the characters we all know and love into a story where queer and genderqueer folks can see themselves represented in this oft-inaccessible canon. We are also so thrilled to be bringing East York's favourite queer burlesque venue, Cake Cabaret to the Toronto Fringe Festival for the first time!

Starring a high-caliber cast of nine emerging artists such as Elise Baumann (Carmilla, One More Time), Naomi Morales (Gringas), Jillian Robinson (Tommy Rhodes), and Frances Loiselle (The Drowning Girls).

Come join us for a drink at Cake Cabaret and watch the drama unfold!
