

Hold On To Win!

SYNOPSIS

From Warren P. Sonoda, director of Trailer Park Boys, This Hour has 22 Minutes, & Coopers' Camera comes his first play since... 1992 high school drama class. HANDS DOWN is a twisted comedy about ambition, endurance, and finding out what really matters... after holding onto a car for 100 hours. As four contestants hunker down to win a vehicle, truths, secrets and an occasional supernatural power are revealed that jeopardize each of them from winning. Everyone has a limit, but sometimes you don't know it until you've crossed it. Like writing a new play after 25 years.
