

PLAY SYNOPSIS

The Trophy Hunt is an exploration of who eats who in our canned hunt of a world where everything is observed, everything a zoo. It tackles the controversial subject of trophy hunting from the perspective of three people involved and affected by the 'sport'. Parker has been arrested for killing a celebrated South African lion. His life has been turned upside down, stalked and tracked down just like the prey he believes he lawfully killed. Jan is the hunting guide responsible for finding the lion for Parker. She has a deep respect for the animals that she must guarantee as trophies to foreign tourists who don't always listen to her. There's a lot of money to be made and she's good at her job, but her methods aren't always above board. Soraya is a lioness who has learned to adapt to the steady stream of hunters who interrupt her leisure time. She also takes trophies of her victims, one of whom is Jan. Amy is our group experience co-ordinator, leading the audience from monologue to monologue. This is her first day on the job and she is terrified of failing, so she relies heavily on her experience as Camp Beaver Creek's 4th favourite counsellor.
