

Luckiest productions- with a name like that how can everything NOT work out for us?

We are a new production company made up of emerging talent from all different backgrounds and experiences who have joined together to spread the word of the Delusional Diva! How did we come about, you ask? None of your business! Just kidding, I'll tell you!

After premiering "Cold Maple Cloth- The Farewell Tour of a Delusional Diva" at the Lambeth Fringe in 2025, Sydney Page (Writer and Performer) called upon the most talented, kind hearted, intelligent people she knew to take the show to Toronto: her best friends! With Sierra Philbert as a collaborator and performer, Annie Wang as stage manager and Music Director, Caroline Wiechers as Director, Patricia Barlow as Choreographer, there was just one thing missing. A person who had NOT gone through the emotional turmoil and joys that we call theatre school. Thus T.Y. Jung was brought on as producer, and Luckiest Productions was born!

Through the power of friendship, positivity, and perhaps a fair bit of delusion, things have been working out despite all the odds!! (Many, many odds, stacked so highly against us some would say!)

And this is just the beginning! Xoxo
