

NEW TORONTO THEATRE COMPANY DEBUTS PLAY "PATIENT 0: A LOVE STORY"
AT TORONTO FRINGE FESTIVAL

PATIENT 0: A LOVE STORY— AN INTROSPECTIVE PLAY EXPLORING HOW LOVE, REGRET, AND DECISIONS DEFINE EXISTENCE.

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: June 3rd, 2026

Toronto, ON - [date] - The new play, PATIENT 0: A LOVE STORY, will be unfolding this summer at the Toronto Fringe Festival. This will be Garshasb "Gary" Siasi's debut play as the writer, director, and executive producer of "O in the Wall Productions". It will be running from June 30 to July 11 at the Tarragon Theatre in Toronto.

"What is the price for freedom? A question often asked, but rarely answered. One that explores the cost of comfort and uncertainty in a world of consequences. What if you wanted to kill someone? Would you sacrifice their freedom for your own? Do you consider that true freedom, or is it just tyranny?"

Patient 0: A Love Story follows Billy, a ruthless killer trapped in a surreal world shaped by trauma, identity, and regret. As he carries out violent missions alongside his brother Tommy, fragments of truth emerge, linking him to a grieving Writer and a lost love. Through encounters with the Writer's Wife, Billy confronts his origins and realizes he embodies the Writer's pain and guilt. Faced with a final choice, Billy challenges his creator, exposing themes of accountability, loss, and self-destruction.

O in the Wall Productions will be debuting PATIENT 0: A LOVE STORY alongside a group of prospective actors, including Malik Suleman as Billy, Seth Roy Guillemette as Tommy, Christopher Maclean as the Writer, Finley, and the Guy in Paris, Sharon Rae Ryan as the Wife, and Julia Skutlesky as the Girl in Paris and the understudy of the Wife.

Audience discretion is advised. PATIENT 0: A LOVE STORY is rated 18+ and may include explicit language, violence, gun and weapons use, death and dying, mental illness, gunshots, and strobing lights.

Ticket purchase is through Toronto Fringe website
