

Lana Lovell is owner and the lead writer/producer for Gloria Grethel Productions. Lana's latest endeavors include writing a string fictional stories for film and theatre. During the past 20 years, Lana has written, directed and produced numerous documentaries and factual based programs for the CBC, Bravo television, and Omni Television. Her work has screened at festivals across the UK, the Caribbean and North America including Toronto's Hot Docs Film Festival. Her documentary work investigates how memory impacts the present and future, while her fictional work explores the personal.