

Mayhem at Myskatonic: A Burlesque Mystery Game is a part improv, part burlesque, part improv all noir absurdist, 1920's Lovecraft-inspired romp.

Dean of Miskatonic University Maximillian Coxwell is throwing an intimate dinner party to show-off his recently acquired artifact, the orb of 'Clithulu' (yes, it's a bit hard to get your tongue around).

The invited guests are:

The adventurer who rescued the artifact from the arctic, Ethelbert Cumbersnatch

His colleague and science professor at the University, Jane Dunwich.

Twin sisters and co-valedictorians, Lenore and Zelda Poe

University Nun, Sister Mary Bradley

Local news reporter, Roy G. Beaverton

BUT! Just before he can show off the artifact - the Dean realizes it's gone missing... Or has been stolen! So he calls in the help of local private detective Ms. Trixie Frisker. What ensues is a wild burlesque-infused whodunnit where the audience votes for the most suspicious characters. They help Ms. Frisker narrow down the suspects until they catch the thief, or see the cast (and audience?) turn to raging sex-demons.
