

Synopsis: PUMP! by Cat and the Queen: (300 - 500 words):

PUMP! By Cat and the Queen, explores the need for connection, the sense of expectations on one's self and the private vs. the public persona; what's really going on behind the filtered Instagram post? Many of us are a part of the global epidemic of escaping our life through our curated online presence, but what happens when you strip that all away? Through live music and imaginative storytelling, Cat takes the audiences on a journey through the struggle to find purpose, perspective, meaning and love. By-the-way; this show is gonna hit both the funny bone and the heart valve. #forreal.

Through all of her creative pursuits, Cat aims to use the strength gained from her experiences as a young child and as an always growing woman to empower all individuals through times of struggle. The practice of Cat and The Queen explores vulnerable and irreverent expression and this is well exemplified in the themes she explores in art and music.
