

Stupid is Good synopsis

Warning: This show is stupid. If you want to check it out, great, if not, fine. The show is basically storytelling of events in my life, things I have thought about, and fun facts that I have picked up. My life is kinda boring so, I added a game of trivia scattered throughout the show.

It's a random show. Each show is different, different life events, different fun facts, etcetera.

I didn't want to be foolish on stage alone, so I recruited my friend and my niece.
