About ZEITGEIST

ZEITGEIST (from the German meaning, “the spirit of the times”) is an interdisciplinary theatrical experience. The story takes place over the course of a single night and follows Caroline and Anders, two twenty-somethings just out of university as they meet and form an almost instant connection with each other. Caroline invites him to a party later that night. Over the course of the evening, they drink, dance, and wrestle with what it means to be a young person in the 21st century. They grow closer but Caroline reveals that the party is actually a going away party. She’s leaving for Germany in the morning to spend the summer there. Despite this, they decide to spend the night together. In the morning, she has to go, and he has to stay but they are full of the bittersweet possibility of the future, with or without each other.

Set

Our set is very minimal and will be moved around the space during the performance. Our current set pieces include:

- A black futon, which will be used in the up and down positions
- A table
- A large floral pattern carpet
- A projector screen
- A bright green concessions counter

We also will have lamps around the space that will be used as practical lighting.

Costumes

Our performers will be wearing very casual clothing similar to what they are wearing in the photo above. They also will be wearing minimal/natural looking makeup, except for the character of Sofia will have red lipstick drawn across their face for a large portion of the performance.
