DREAMS

Enter the dreamscape - a lush, abstract world that transcends the stage. As live theatre makes its grand return, Stardust Space is thrilled to present a show that contemplates and reflects upon what the future of theatre can mean to them. Dreams is “a visual mixtape” - an autobiographical anthology of scenes connected by music and sound. Scenes encompass spoken word, poetry, movement, and dialogue, all born from a lush, ethereal soundscape. Dreams evokes feelings of synesthesia - blurring the lines between senses, evoking new memories you’ve never had, and reawakening old ones.

Stardust Space is led by Alyx “Cloud” Cameron, an emerging performer and sound designer. 2022 has been a banner year for Alyx, with Dreams’ Fringe debut serving as the capstone. She has recently completed the Paprika Festival’s Sound Design Lab (mentored by Deanna H. Choi), Nightwood Theatre’s 21-22 Innovators, and was a Siminovitch Forum panelist in their Women’s Day discussion of Feminist Theatre. The team also features fellow Nightwood Innovator/TENT/Paprika alum Rose Goodwin (Rose’s Buds), and Lidia Foote (Sweet Kisses - Tender Limbs for Toronto Fringe 2019, Tales of a City by the Sea for Theatre Passe Muraille) as stage manager. Stardust Space aims to make room for transmedia creation processes in theatre, and to be an ever-expanding space for the theatre scene’s “chosen family”.

Dreams’ creation process was supported through OAC Recommender Grants from Nightwood Theatre, Obsidian Theatre, and Buddies in Bad Times. This generous lineup reflects the intersections Alyx proudly belongs. “Dreams: The EP”, a preview selection of musical pieces featured within the show, is also available to purchase and stream NOW on Bandcamp, with a full soundtrack release coming in July.
