

Synopsis:

John Michael has a new boyfriend, possibly played by you! Aren't you excited to meet his dead mom?! Meatball Séance is an interactive comedy of grief and sex with a healthy dose of garlic and fennel.

Over 300 audience members have joined John Michael on stages in Chicago, Dallas, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Orlando, Bergen, Gothenburg, Winnipeg, Edinburgh, and now Ottawa to summon his mother from the grave by cooking her famous meatballs onstage.

Developed by Arlo Howe and directed by Sammy Zeisel, this trauma clown performance will leave you horny, hungry, and happy to be alive.

"Oh my GOD, that was fun!! Meatball Séance is one of the most outrageous and one of the most original shows we'll ever see...Don't miss it." -★★★★★, CBC Radio

There are 5 roles for the audience to play and "the only way to avoid participating is to cross your arms. (Pro tip: do not cross your arms. You want to be a part of this). Endearingly Unhinged" - St. Louis Limelight.

Meatball Séance includes optional audience participation with actual cooking on stage. Mixed with garlic, breadcrumbs, milk, and meat -- this is Fringe Theater at its finest. Don't miss John Michael's Meatball Séance!
