

Synopsis:

Our Exes Are Dead (Rachelle Mazzilli and Maggie Chafe), your favourite comedy duo that you've also never heard of, presents a filmed collection of new and old sketches for the first time ever! This Canadian buddy comedy duo wants to share their bond and delusion with you. Each sketch is an expression of how they see the world mixed with the things they are passionate about. If you woke up today and thought "I want to watch something where two funny gals play all the parts and was also made on the world's smallest budget" - you've found it!
