At Chocolate Dollz Productions, we create engaging film & TV projects. Whether we're developing great story ideas, producing award-winning content, or pitching ideas to networks, we believe that there is no greater power on this earth than story.

Chocolate Dollz Productions was founded in 2010 by award-winning show-runner, producer, author, actress and radio and television personality, Sandy Daley. Her controversial first novel, "Whose Vagina Is It, Really?" has taken the world by storm. Chocolate Dollz Productions is a female-driven production company that produces quality films, television shows and stage plays.

The company incorporates anti-oppressive practices, and diversity and inclusive strategies in every production.

Sandy Daley infuses passion into her projects. She's originally from Kingston, Jamaica and has lived in Toronto for a number of years.

Daley was the star of Another Planet, the first feature film which was written produced and directed by a black woman in Canada: Christene Browne. Daley's syndicated column, 'Real Talk With Sandy', was published in New York, Toronto and Barbados. She won the Spirit Award for favourite columnist in 2009, which was handed out at Citi Fields in New York City.

The second edition of her first novel, entitled Whose Vagina Is It, Really? Uncensored, will be in stores July, 2021. Daley's screenwriting credits include, Untamed Chicks, Daddy's Not Around: DNA, and The Wright Girl: all starring black leads. Daddy's Not Around: D.N.A. premiered at the Caribbean Tales Film Festival in 2019 and was screened at the Carleton Cinemas under the Cine-Fam umbrella.
