

Ship-Shape!

A Playtime Playhouse Production

About the show...

Ahoy, mateys! With the plague that has befallen the land, noble seafarers Captain Buttsworth and Major-Corporal Trinket are stuck ashore and need your help rescuing their Gran-Gran! Come and enlist with the Royal ImagiNavy, and follow our silly sailors through a series of zany mishaps and miscommunications, wacky wisecracks, and fun, interactive games and crafts! But, be sure to watch out for the devious Captain MeowMeow—le pirate à trois pattes!

Born out of the boredom of the pandemic and the growing need for children's entertainment and activities while stuck at home, "Ship-Shape!" is a brand-new, fun-filled and educational digital play suitable for ages 3-10. The goal of the show is really to spread positivity and share some fun silliness in light of the prevailing pandemic (without being about the pandemic), which must just be so very overwhelming and confusing for kids (not mention their parents)!

The story centres around two sailors with opposing personalities: the uptight and curmudgeonly Captain Butts(worth) and the well-meaning but slightly clueless Major-Corporal Trinket. Together, they struggle with having to spend all their time together and resist (sometimes unsuccessfully) getting on each other's nerves!

With a little patience, understanding and communication, however, our noble seafarers manage to work things through, have some fun, learn some new concepts and words and make sure everything's Ship-Shape!
