The closest accessible bus route is 127 Davenport. Get off at Bathurst and make your way east along Davenport, turn right (south) onto Howland Avenue. The theatre is approximately 410 meters from the bus stop at Davenport and Bathurst.

Subway

Dupont Station is the closest subway station. To get to the theatre from here, walk west along Dupont Street, turn right on Howland Avenue and walk one block north. Please note that Dupont Station is not accessible.

You can also go to Bathurst Station. When you get to the station, take the 7C Bathurst bus to the first stop north of Dupont Street (“Bridgman Avenue”) and walk two blocks east on Bridgman Avenue. Bathurst Station is accessible.

Arriving

This is what the building looks like from the main entrance, which is on Howland Street.

Before the show

During the Fringe, you wait outside the venue until your show is announced. This is also where our Front of House is located.

You may need to visit our Front of House if you want to:

- Purchase tickets
- Indicate that you require priority seating
- Indicate that you require alternative seating
- Indicate that you require accessible seating
- Pick up a headset and receiver for audio described performances

Front of House will be located on Bridgman Avenue at the West end of the building. Sometimes it can get quite busy and may look like this:

If you already have tickets and don't need to visit our Box office, you will wait in the ticket holders' line. Ticket holders will line up down Bridgman Avenue, as pictured below. Please let us know if you require seating while you wait.

Fringe staff wear black or white t-shirt and volunteers wear pink t-shirts. They are there to help you. They are very friendly.

Entering the building

A Front of House person will audibly announce, as well as hold up a sign, for priority seating for anyone requiring extra time. This includes patrons using accessible or alternative seating. If that's you, then you will enter.

A Front of House person will then make a general entrance announcement and hold up a sign for everyone to enter the theatre a few minutes later. If you haven't already gone in then it's time.

If you have accessibility needs, you will enter through the main doors.

If you do not have accessibility needs, you may be asked to enter through the side door. It looks like this.

Lobby

When you enter the doors, you will be in the lobby. This is what the lobby looks like.

This is a space for passing through. It's not a space for hanging out except in special circumstances. For example, you can come out here if you need a break during a relaxed performance.

Getting Upstairs

This is what the stairs to the Solo Room look like.

If you need to use the elevator, a Fringe staff or volunteer will take you up the elevator. This is what it looks like.

Performance Space

These are the doors to the Solo Room. The sign above the door says “Near Studio”. It is located on the second floor, to the left of the elevators.

This is where you will sit and watch the show. You can sit in whichever seat you like! Accessible seating is located in the front row. Chairs can be removed or rearranged to accommodate mobility devices as needed.

This is what the stage may look like from the audience.

During a Relaxed Performance

If you are coming for a relaxed performance, there will be a short introduction before the show starts. Someone from the company will let you know a little about the show, characters and if there is anything that may be surprising during the performance. You can also expect reduced sound and lighting effects. The house lights will be on at a low level so that you can enter and exit safely at any time. Audience members are free to sit or stand, make noise as they need to, or use fidgets as needed. We want you to be comfortable.

Washroom

There is a women's washroom on the main floor, just down the hall that leads you to the elevator. This bathroom has 4 stalls and one of the stalls is accessible with grab bars. It does not have an automatic door opener.

This is what the stall looks like on the inside.

Men's washrooms are located upstairs via elevator or stairs. This is what the Men's washroom looks like on the inside. There is one accessible stall with grab bars. It does not have an automatic door opener.

There is also a large, single occupancy accessible washroom upstairs that looks like this. There is an automatic door opener on this washroom.

Please ask a staff or volunteer if you need assistance getting to the washrooms.

Quiet Area

Unfortunately, we do not have a designated quiet area at this time.
