COMPANY

LOVE, SHAKESPEARE & ROPE

uses Shakespeare's sonnets as a framework to explore love, obsession, connection and inspiration. Through mixed movement disciplines of circus, dance, and Shibari, the ensemble finds romance and vulnerability in an experimental reworking of classical poetry.

The ensemble consists of seasoned circus and Shibari performers who have spent years honing their craft and exploring their art. While many of them have collaborated before, this is their first show as a company.

launched in the Entertainment District's notorious 263 Adelaide St W, shortly followed by a move to a larger historic space in Liberty Village. An expansion to a larger space just off Queen St came in 2024 along with expanded content, a cocktail program and so much more. With a 100 year storied history, the venue has been transformed into an intimate space for the city's avant-garde.
