

Venus is the goddess of love and when she sees Adonis, she falls deeply in love and comes down to earth to meet him. In her pursuit, Adonis deny's her affections as is not interested in love and would rather go hunting. What happens when the goddess of love is scorned in her own realm?