Playwright's Note:

This is a children's play that began 25 years ago as a bedtime story that my kids loved to hear over and over. Last year, I decided that it would be nice for them to be able to tell the story to their own children and so I wrote it down intending a book. All the characters were named after important people in their lives.

The first draft was shown to Alicia and Don from Arbez Drama Projects and they insisted that I try to turn it into a play. A PLAY?! Oh my! I had a steep learning curve to climb and fast. It is proving to be an amazing experience.

The play gravitates about pie-making and friend-making and how different ages, styles and experiences can come together around a challenge to create a sum greater than its individual parts. I hope that you have as much fun watching the play unfold as we had putting it all together.

Director's Note:

How old do you actually feel on the inside? I personally have just turned 50, but if you ask my daughters/friends/family they'll tell you that I'm young at heart! We've tried to inject that 'young-at-heart' feeling into this production of Old Fashioned & New Fashioned, an intergenerational story of two neighbours who start as baking competition rivals, but become friends as they share with each other and learn to cook with love. We hope you'll have some fun with us, and maybe sing along!

With heartfelt thanks to Annemieke, Vesper and Lyric for the love and support, John and Don for the opportunity, Nima for the kitchen, Mike for the dynamic collaboration, Kate for keeping us all together. And to Cari, Jeff and Alicia who've now spent countless hours singing about pie!

THANK YOU FOR COMING TO OUR SHOW.
