

For immediate release: June 1, 2021 (10:00am EDT)

Local Playwright Premieres Time Limits Dropped on Easter Sunday in the 2021 Toronto Fringe Festival

Wonder Jones Productions is pleased to announce the 2021 Toronto Fringe Festival premiere of Time Limits Dropped on Easter Sunday, a new production by local playwright Erin Jones, created with the Fringe's digital platform in mind.

Time Limits Dropped on Easter Sunday* – July 21 – 31, 2021

Four bereavement group friends meet via EtherWebb on Easter Sunday; and embark on an unexpected and mystical virtual adventure of memory, revelation and closure.

Tickets: <https://fringetoronto.com/fringe/plan-your-festival/tickets-pass-info>

About Wonder Jones Productions

Wonder Jones Productions was created to produce theatrical content that is inclusive and respectful to our whole community, with a focus on creating stories that demonstrate humanity and dignity for the Black community and BIPOC artists.

"The show reflects the journeys of four individuals and their loved ones through loss, grief, guilt, fear, love and forgiveness. While the characters are members of multiple communities, their stories are universally relatable," says playwright/actor Jones.

At a pivotal moment in history, Black and Asian stories are needed more than ever. The necessity for these communities to heal, connect and re-envision a future outside of current systems is very real, and fully felt.

About The Toronto Fringe Festival

The 33rd annual Toronto Fringe Festival will once again be a platform for independent artists to showcase their work and move forward through this difficult year in community solidarity.

During the festival, Fringe companies will present pre-recorded video, audio and written pieces for worldwide audiences as part the Fringe On-Demand series. Audiences will access content on fringetoronto.com with the purchase of an affordable and accessible membership pass. It will also offer practical solutions for access measures.

The Toronto Fringe decided on a digital festival to do their part to stop the spread of COVID-19.

Media Contact

Communications Manager, Wonder Jones Productions
wonderjonesproductions@gmail.com