

HI BESTIES!! IT'S A MUSICAL THEATRE SLUMBER PARTY... AND YOU'RE INVITED!!

Welcome to Will & The Amazingly Obsessive Theatrical Vinyl Collection! This show is set in Will's living room, filled with vinyls and stories of their quarter-life. Think The Drowsy Chaperone meets Boy Falls From The Sky meets your favourite Eccentric Gen-Z Theatre Nerd. The piece opens with Will's living room with vinyls strung about and an overly excited Will ready to welcome their friends to his musical theatre slumber party. From there we learn all about Will's lived experience as a queer person through the lens of their vast musical theatre vinyl collection. We find out throughout the show that these vinyls mean more to Will than anything else in the world and that they've helped them through their most troubling times. This cozy cabaret-ified gossip sesh is all about thrifted LPs, the power of song, emotional healing... and Ethel Merman. This show will feature songs from your favourite musicals including Into the Woods, Sweet Charity, Annie, and more! This show is for theatre nerds, vinyl lovers, and anyone who finds community in their art, which is all of us. So sit back, relax, and get ready to laugh at Will's jokes. No preparation or pajamas required.
