

A musician, isolated in his room on his 40th birthday during covid, faces some emotional challenges that are provoked by 6 women in his life.

During the pandemic all our communications were virtual but how much of each other's feelings can we really be aware of through digital communication?

This show is an honest look into a day of Massoud's life during the COVID19 pandemic.

Digital Theatre was an opportunity for us. In our project we had artists from Canada, USA, Iran, Indonesia, and France and how else could we possibly work together?

We had our rehearsals and shooting dates in various time zones and everyone had to give up on their sleeping hours at least a few times.

However, every project has its difficulties and for us the biggest challenge in Untuned was the quality of the internet in different countries. The internet definitely reduced the quality of our work. The low quality scenes, glitches, freezes, sound loose, and other inadequacies are all due to low quality internet, and we ask you to take that into consideration!
